Special Notices.

OFFICE OF CROTON AQUeduct DEPARTMENT, April 29, 1854.

The Hon. A. W. WEVERETT, Mayor of the City of New-York.—An Intelligence was received this afternoon that the earthworks had been completed at the Croton Aqueduct, and the water was flowing from the main reservoir into the aqueduct on the day before.

The supply for the aqueduct to this city is in consequence cut off. Measures have and will be taken to prevent the use of water from the aqueduct, and to provide for the wants of the inhabitants, by means of cisterns and cistern houses, &c., and it will be necessary that citizens be cautioned to make no other use of water than such as is supplied by the aqueduct.

The measures adopted by the Superintendent of that district could only say that he was sent to say to Mr. Craven, the Engineer of the Croton Aqueduct Department, "Mr. Weverett, the Mayor of the Croton Aqueduct, bids immediately for the removal of the dam at the 5 o'clock train of the Hudson River, and will make use of every effort to secure the safety of the city."—ELIAS L. SMITH, President.

OFFICE OF CROTON AQUeduct DEPARTMENT, April 30, 1854.

Whereas, Information has been received by the Croton Aqueduct Department that the dam on the Croton River, by means of which the aqueduct is supplied, has been seriously injured by fire, and is now partially destroyed, and the water is now flowing from the reservoir, it is sufficient for but a very few days' supply. I hereby enjoin upon my aid officers to observe the utmost economy in the use of water, and to make every effort to furnish a supply to meet the public expectation and want in these particulars. His first great object, however, will be to restore the aqueduct.

JOHN A. WEVERETT, Mayor.
